Entrepreneurship Training in Organic Farm Business

Why should you participate in the EDP in Organic Farm Business

Organic farming is a whole system (or holistic) way of producing food.

This means that organic food growers think about the effects of their farming practices on the soil, crops and livestock on the farm, the quality of the food they produce, the local community and the wider environment.

Organic growers manage the land in ways that work with natural systems rather than trying to dominate or change them. For example, organic growers use predatory invertebrates to help control pests instead of using man-made pesticides.

The word 'organic' is a legal term. All organic growers and processors must register with one of the organic certification bodies which inspect them at least once a year.

What are Top Ten reasons that Organic food is getting popular today ?

1. Organic Farming reduces The Toxic Load: Keeps Chemicals Out of the Air, Water, Soil and our Bodies
Our bodies are the environment so supporting organic agriculture doesn't just benefit your family, it helps all families live less toxically.
2. Reduces if Not Eliminate Off Farm Pollution
3. Protects Future Generations
4. Builds Healthy Soil
5. Organic Food Tastes Better with Truer Flavor
6. Assist Family Farmers of all Sizes
7. Avoids Hasty and Poor Science in Your Food
8. Organic Food Eating with a Sense of Pride – since it's truly natural.
9. Promotes Biodiversity
10. Celebrate the Culture of Agriculture

Important to note that Govt has set apart Rs.412 crore to encourage Organic Farming

Agriculture Sector Never Faces Recession

With such strong focus being given by the Prime Minister & Finance Minister of our country, Agriculture Economy is set to grow in Leaps & Bounds. Agriculture Sector is full of opportunities as the largest consumer-base for the Agriculture produce is in India – Indian Population is about 125 Crores.

Organic Farm products have infinite Opportunities for Entrepreneurs willing to set up their Enterprise in this domain.
